Presenter: Prof. Tessica Dooley

Assistant Professor of Legal Studies, University of Illinois Springfield

Tess Dooley's research broadly focuses on U.S. health policy and social justice issues related to race. Prior to joining the Legal Studies department, she practiced law as a Principal Attorney for Haynes Benefits, P.C., a boutique employee benefits firm, and continues to work on special projects for the firm. Previously she served as regional Vice President of Compliance for a nationally renowned insurance brokerage firm, and as in-house counsel for a Fortune 500 and S&P 500 corporation, with a primary focus in employee benefits law, during her five-year tenure with the corporation.
